RNCSE 36:4 now on-line [3]

NCSE is pleased to announce that the latest issue of Reports of the National Center for Science Education is now available on-line. The issue — volume 36, number 4 — is the fourth issue in the newsletter's new, streamlined, and full-color format.

Featured are not one but two articles on Ark Encounter, by Timothy H. Heaton and Mark Alsip; Randy Moore's discussion of a recent gathering of John Scopes's family and friends; news about NCSE's scholarship for teachers to travel down the Grand Canyon from Josh Rosenau and Steve Newton; and a review of Seth B. Darling and Douglas L. Sisterson's How to Change Minds About Our Changing Climate by Kim Trenbath.

The entire issue is freely available in PDF form from <http://reports.ncse.com> [4]. Members of NCSE will have already received the issue in the mail, and will be receiving the next issue of Reports in early 2017. (Not a member? Join [5] today!)
